

NEW WAYS TO ENGAGE

- Choose from among 8 sessions that match your time and interests
- Participate in Synchronous Live Sessions or view Asynchronous Recordings
- Receive individual consultation on your assessment materials and questions
- Join on your own or with colleagues

EXPLORE A VARIETY OF ASSESSMENT TOPICS

- Alternative grading practices that center learning, growth, and equity
- Providing effective and meaningful feedback
- Co-creating course rubrics with students to assess learning outcomes
- Optimizing Canvas for grading

Spring Synchronous Live Sessions:

April 11, Noon-1:30 PM
April 15, Noon-1:30 PM
April 18, Noon-1 PM
April 23, Noon-1 PM
April 25, Noon-1:30 PM

REIMAGINING ASSESSMENT PRACTICUM

Check out our new and improved flexible format designed to engage every instructor at Northwestern

Learn more and register for Spring:

<https://bit.ly/RAPRegister>

Questions?

Email practicum@northwestern.edu

2024 WINTER PARTICIPANT REVIEWS

“The panel discussion on feedback to assess and promote learning was very helpful. I always appreciate hearing about how concepts are applied in practice.”

“Loved the back and forth between presentations on alternative grading strategies and break-out groups. Made me feel like we're not taking big scary steps all on our own but in community and with experts on our side. Made an appointment for a consultation already!”

“This was a great session. I especially liked the concrete examples and ideas that were provided for developing assignments with Generative AI and transparent design. Thank you so much!”

“The practicum has been phenomenal, and I can't wait to share changes I'm making to my course with others and to implement these in the Fall Quarter. Thanks once more for the coffee and conversation!”